Maps

The archives of N.E.S.T. Special Collections include 55 maps that are listed on this page. Many of the maps were donated to N.E.S.T. by Benjamin Weir in 1998. It can be presumed that many maps were used for teaching at mission schools. Some outline Protestant institutions in Lebanon during the French Mandate period (most likely created during a government property survey), while others were created by the Protestant communities themselves. Of particular interest are Henry Harris Jessup's Map of the Syria Mission (m16 & m 17) and the copies of the Anglo-American Cemetery maps (m2 to m8; m18 & m19). Many of the maps have been pressed while others remain rolled. Care is needed when examining these items. Snake weights and gloves are available.

The maps are given distinct inventory numbers that starts with the letter "m", which should be indicated when ordering items. Also listed in this index are each map's title, creator, date, affiliation (when known) as well as the number of copies for each item. Additional information for each map can be found on a separate PDF, arranged by inventory number, which is also available to researchers.
